CONSULTING

Practara cares about our world and the future of it. We know that every company has inherent value waiting to be unearthed. As a result, we plough our expertise into your company's soil to improve the triple bottom line.

FINANCIAL ANALYSIS

Engineering is the core foundation of our financial and cost models. We display how your capacities, efficiencies, and productivities drive margin and investment returns.

TECHNICAL SERVICES

Our in-house technical team of geologists and mining engineers are bolstered by a network of skilled associate consultants across the globe providing tailormade solutions to our clients' needs.

ESG & SUSTAINABILITY

A robust business case is contingent on maintaining a license to operate. We help clients identify and manage all ESG-related aspects of their mining projects to ensure sustainable operations.

Send us an email at info@practara.co.za to book a no-obligation session with one of our principals to see how best we can assist you in identifying, evaluating or pursuing your next project.

ABOUT US

Established in 2015 with the vision of becoming the leading mineral economics consultancy in the world by tapping into our local expertise in supporting the sustainable development of Africa's mineral wealth and re-imagining how consulting services are rendered in an ever-increasing digital world.
