

SAIMM
THE SOUTHERN AFRICAN INSTITUTE
OF MINING AND METALLURGY

Mine Planner's Colloquium 2019

Skills for the future – yours and your mine's

22–23 May 2019

Glenhove Conference Centre, Melrose Estate, Johannesburg

BACKGROUND

Previous SAIMM Mine Planning forums have clearly highlighted deficiencies in mine planning skills. The 2012, 2014, and 2017 colloquia all illustrated developing skill-sets with a variety of mine planning tools in a context of multiple mining methods. Newer tools and newer skills for the future of mining will feature in 2019.

OBJECTIVES

Using a backdrop of a generic description of the multidisciplinary mine planning process, the forum provides a platform for the mine planning fraternity to share mining business-relevant experiences amongst peers. While different mining environments have their specific information requirements, all require the integration of inputs from different technical experts, each with their own toolsets.

The forum's presentations will highlight contributions from a series of technical experts on current best practice, and will be augmented by displays of state-of-the-art mine planning tools in order to create a learning experience for increased planning competencies.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Mine planners and practitioners
- Mine designers
- Technical support staff
- Cost and financial modellers
- Chief planners
- Mineral resource managers
- Mine managers responsible for planning
- Consultants
- Independent mine planning consultants
