CONFERENCE

The SAIMM is going Digital!

As part of our digital transformation journey,
this year we are excited to host the International Mine Health and Safety Conference
as a completely new digital experience.

AUGUST 2020

Our digital conference will support our industry journey towards zero harm for our mine and minerals industry employees, ensuring that they go home safe and healthy every day.

We will be showcasing industry leading practices, where case studies will show how companies have successfully achieved their safety and health goals, with leading practitioners and industry leaders presenting their achievements.

In this way, we will be showcasing leadership requirements and benchmarks, which indicate how we can achieve our objectives through people, systems and technologies.

We will also be exploring the areas of occupational and personal health as they impact on the workplace, and especially exploring the learnings from the COVID19 experience, in order to understand how these will impact on the way we work, and engage with our communities.

The increasingly important area of Environment, Sustainability and Governance will also be unpacked, in order to understand how the mining and minerals can improve its image and place in society.

Hear from industry leaders, health and safety professionals, organised labour, regulators, technology experts and leaders, fund managers, academics and many more.

Join us for an exciting and stimulating set of presentations, panel discussions and live question and answer sessions in our webinar environment.

Please submit your abstracts by 15 June 2020 on the following topics:

- People: from the individual to the organisation, your involvement in creating a safe and healthy workplace
- Health strategies, legislation, and policies
- COVID-19 The Impact and Learnings
- Technology and Innovation in health, safety and environment, in a changing world
- Safety initiatives and best practices
- Sustainability
- Environment/Community
- Governance

We are looking forward to sharing this digital experience with you!
